ABOUT CAROLYN

Carolyn Quartermaine is an Anglo-Swiss artist and photographer based in London, the South of France and Venice, Italy. She has exhibited widely and internationally, and her work is held in many private collections. She has been featured on over 40 front covers and worked as a contributing editor for leading international magazines and has an extensive bibliography. She was named Designer of the Year at Maison et Objects in Paris. Her paintings, photography, textiles, and collages explore storytelling, capturing the emotion and uniqueness of a moment in time, creating collections and installations for leading design houses such as Baccarat, Givenchy, Vuitton, Ricard, Hermès and Montblanc, and consultancy and art direction for her international clients. She has concentrated in the past seven years on museum and gallery exhibitions and installations, working with huge scale cyanotypes, film, and photography. Her work includes film and photography, paintings and explores themes of history, literature, nature, and philosophy.
